Tuesday's Transition Tips

Charting the LifeCourse: Daily Life & Employment

Developed by Missouri Family to Family, in partnership with Show Me Careers, the guide contains easy-to-use activities and resources so that students can begin to chart their course toward their employment vision. Take a look at “Charting the LifeCourse: Daily Life and Employment” here.

As a companion to the guide, the University of Missouri-Kansas City Institute for Human Development also developed “Charting the LifeCourse: Daily Life and Employment,” six short video modules that introduce students and their supporters to “questions to ask, things to do, and resources that can help lead them to a job, career, volunteering, college or continuing education, and ultimately, the lives they want.”
